

The Philanthropic Landscape 2011

May 2013

Did the top 1,121 U.S. foundations award more in grants that specifically help and empower those that have been historically underserved like the poor, women and girls, senior citizens and others? Did they increase their flexible grants to nonprofits serving our communities? Check out the latest set of fact sheets that look at these giving trends in 2011.

Each fact sheet includes a list of top funders for each type of giving by share and total amount.

The State of Giving to Underserved Communities 2011

May 2013

Numbers from

The State of Giving to Underserved Communities 2011 shows that the number of foundations that increase in giving to benefit

Read The State of Giving to Underserved Communities 2011

The State of Social Justice Philanthropy 2011

May 2013

According to The State of Social Justice Philanthropy 2011 and community engagement to address

Read The State of Social Justice Philanthropy 2011

The State of General Operating Support 2011

May 2013

The State of General Operating Support 2011 signs: we saw a notable bump in share of grant dollars rep

Read The State of General Operating Support 2011

The State of Multi-Year Funding 2011

May 2013

Looking at the 2011 data,The State of Multi-Year Funding that nearly 90 percent of the top U.S. foundations

Read The State of Multi-Year Funding 2011

<< Back to The Philanthropic Landscape

<< Back to Campaigns, Research and Policy