

For Immediate Release

4/13/2004

Contact:

Naomi Tacuyan

(202) 387-9177, ext. 17

naomi@ncrp.org

mmission Action Would Severely Restrict Nonprofit Advocacy

Chilling effects of FEC Proposed Rulemaking on 501c Organizations at Congressional Briefing

WASHINGTON-A coalition of six national nonprofit organizations promoting the rights of nonprofit adv
While the immediate results of the FEC's efforts would only restrict the ability of 527 political action com
"The FEC is treading into areas which will strongly chill the legitimate-and completely legal-free speech Cohen noted, "The potential FEC regulations will fall prey to the 'law of unintended effects.' The FEC's d
The proposed regulation expands the definition of electioneering "expenditures" to include spending for

- more -

NCRP News Release

Wednesday, April 14, 2004

Page 2 of 2

"When ideally realized, democracy provides the space for voices in the minority to be heard, recognized
The restrictions would apply not just to commentary related to incumbents in Congress or the White Ho Lisa Ransom Brown of the Washington Council of Agencies listed examples of the negative impacts the
The FEC is undertaking this rulemaking to determine whether the current definition of "political committe