PHILANTHROPIC REFORM GROUP HIRES NEW RESEARCH DIRECTOR

Scholar Jeff Krehely to Head NCRP's Research Team

WASHINGTON

----- The National Committee for Responsive Philanthropy (NCRP) today announced the hiring of Jeff Krehely as its new research director.

"Jeff brings us a unique mix of excellence in scholarly philanthropic research, program administration, public policy analysis, and media relations," said Sloan C. Wiesen, NCRP's president and CEO.

Krehely is currently special assistant to the president of The Atlantic Philanthropies, Inc. Before that, he was a senior advisor to the president of the Brookings Institution.

Krehely's research has appeared in publications by the Brookings Institution and the Urban Institute, and he has been a frequent speaker at national and international conferences.

"I am very eager to begin working with NCRP's team dedicated to producing sound research and promoting the public good," Krehely said.
